

QUICK REFERENCE EXAMPLE DRAFT RESOLUTION

Draft Resolution: Bloc Name

Topic: The Crisis in the Central African Republic

Sponsors: Albania, Dominican Republic, Lebanon, Russian Federation, United Kingdom

Noting with deep concern the 2.4 million people who are in dire need of assistance and protection,
Alarmed by the 400,000 people who have already been displaced,
Emphasizing the need for international cooperation at this time,

1. Establishes the creation of a sub-committee to oversee this issue, called the United Nations African Supervisory Committee (UNASC);
 - a. This sub-committee will provide peacekeeping operations, and any member who wishes to join must be approved by the members of UNASC by a majority vote;
2. Urges funding from developed countries and other UN bodies such as the World Bank to address the public health epidemics in the Central African Republic;
3. Calls upon the creation of the "Feed People, Not War" program that aims to solve the ongoing famine crisis within the Central African Republic through:
 - a. Requesting aid from willing UN member states, and
 - b. Distributing food amongst starving populations in the region.

Explanation of Terms

Draft Resolution: The document of solutions that a bloc (group of countries working together) creates to be reviewed and voted upon. Your bloc can create a name for their group or their paper, so be creative!

Sponsors: The names of the countries that worked on the resolution.

Preambulatory Clauses: These clauses give context to the operative clauses and explain the framework in which this resolution was produced.

Operative Clauses: Summarizes and describes a policy, something that the members present in this committee will be asked to enforce. Begin with an "operative verb," and are numbered; sub-points under a clause will be signified using the English alphabet.

Examples of Operative Verbs: Affirms, Approves, Calls, Calls upon, Condemns, Emphasizes, Encourages, Endorses, Further requests, Recommends, Requests, Urges.

WooMUN II

Zachary Zawila, Secretary-General

Jon Hayes, Director-General

woomun.org munatclark@gmail.com